contract of employment or another signed written agreement allows it, the Company may deduct the reasonable cost of any Company uniform (other than PPE) that is not returned, or is returned damaged due to neglect, from the employee's final pay. Any deduction will not take pay below the National Minimum Wage.

Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)

The Company will supply employees with personal protective equipment (PPE) at the Company's expense. It is a condition of their employment that employees wear any PPE whenever required by law or by site-specific rules while working. Breach of these rules may result in disciplinary action, up to and including the termination of employment without notice for gross misconduct. Employees are expected to maintain all items of PPE in a reasonable condition. They will be required to return all PPE when their employment ends. PPE is provided free of charge and the Company will not charge employees, or make deductions from pay, for PPE (Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974, s.9). Damaged or worn PPE must be reported so that it can be replaced.

Job duties and authority

All employees should fulfil their job duties with integrity and respect toward customers, stakeholders and the community. Supervisors and managers mustn't abuse their authority. TWG expects them to delegate duties to their team members taking into account their competences and workload. Likewise, we expect team members to follow team leaders' instructions and complete their duties with skill and in a timely manner.

Flexibility

Employees will be provided with a job description containing details of their duties, however we all have to be flexible in the work we do, and employees are required to comply with any reasonable request to ensure the effectiveness of the business.

Lunch breaks should be taken at a time convenient to the business and always ensure that there is minimum cover in the office at all times.

Communication

All employees must be open for communication with their colleagues, customers, directors or team members.

Clear desk policy

Employees are expected to maintain a level of cleanliness of their desk and the surrounding office. Desks should be left clear at the end of the day and all confidential information should be locked away. All waste paper which contains sensitive or confidential information must be shredded. Under no circumstances should this information be placed in regular waste paper bins. Computer workstations must be locked when the desk is unoccupied and completely shut down at the end of the work day. Keys for accessing drawers or filing cabinets should not be left unattended at a desk.

Time keeping

Employees are responsible for attending work punctually and should not leave work earlier than their finishing time without authorisation from the office manager. Conduct outside work TWG does not seek to dictate how employees conduct themselves in their personal lives outside work. However, unlawful, anti-social or other conduct by employees which may jeopardise the Company's reputation or position will be dealt with through the disciplinary procedure.
