DRUG AND ALCOHOL POLICY

Interpretation

In this policy, 'the Company' means the TWG company that employs you (or, for policies about how we do business, the TWG company concerned): Roofworx (UK) Limited (Co. No. 08946095), Woodworx (Carpentry UK) Ltd (Co. No. 11828681) or Fire-worx (Fire Safety) UK Ltd (Co. No. 14615772). 'TWG' means those companies together, trading as TWG - The Worx Group.

This policy does not form part of any employee's contract of employment and may be amended at any time.

Scope

TWG - The Worx Group (Roofworx, Woodworx and Fire-worx) recognises that alcohol and drug abuse problems are an area of health and social concern. The Company also recognises that alcohol and drug abuse problems can have a detrimental effect on work performance and behaviour, and it has a duty to manage employees who may be putting themselves or others at risk because of their inappropriate or excessive use or addiction to drugs or alcohol.

The aim of this policy is to ensure the health and safety of all employees by having clear guidelines in place regarding the use and possession of alcohol and drugs, and where possible to support those who have reported a problem with alcohol or drug dependence.

Alcohol, drugs and other substances have a strongly negative effect on the brain and the body, impairing judgement and concentration and putting the employee and their co-workers at risk.

Definitions

Alcohol abuse – we define alcohol abuse as any drinking, either intermittent or continual which interferes with health and/or social functioning and/or work capability or conduct.

Drug abuse – we define drug abuse as the use of illegal drugs, legal highs, the deliberate misuse of prescribed or over the counter drugs, and the use of solvents, either intermittent or continuous, which interfere with the health and/or social functioning and/or work capability or conduct.

Sometimes, prescribed medication might have side-effects which affect an employee's performance. If this is the case, they must raise it with the office manager, so that the Company can take medical advice where necessary and consider any appropriate reasonable adjustments.

Identifying a problem

Substance misuse may become apparent through a number of signs. The following list of signals (particularly in combination) could indicate an issue. This list is not exhaustive:

- Persistent short-term absence;
- Frequent unauthorised absence;
- Recurrent small accidents;
- Poor time keeping;
- Inconsistency in work performance;
- A breakdown in working relations;

- Paranoia/aggression and
- Deterioration in physical appearances, such as dental problems/weight loss.

Procedure

It is therefore Company policy that employees may not bring to or consume alcohol or any unlawful drugs in the workplace.

All employees have a responsibility to ensure they are fit for work and remain so during the working day, therefore during working hours and always whilst on work premises or a designated place of work employees must not be under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

If the Company suspects an employee of being under the influence of drugs or alcohol, or if their role is critical to health and safety, then TWG may ask the employee to submit to screening for drugs or alcohol, including random screening for safety-critical roles where the employee's contract of employment provides for it. Testing will be carried out by an external provider, with the employee's consent at the time of the test, in private and with dignity. The Company has carried out, and will keep under review, a Data Protection Impact Assessment for testing. Test results are health data and will be treated as special category data under the GDPR Policy: they will be kept confidential, seen only by those who need to know, and kept no longer than necessary. If an employee refuses, the Company may take disciplinary action against them, in accordance with the Disciplinary Policy, up to and including dismissal.

TWG recognises it has a duty of care to ensure the health and wellbeing of all employees and that an employee with alcohol or drug abuse problems may require help and support from the Company.

However, TWG also understands that it has a responsibility to all its employees and other stakeholders to ensure that any risks related to this are minimised, so should an employee be in breach of this policy the Company has the right to apply formal disciplinary action under the Company Disciplinary Policy.

Document Control

Policy owner: a Director. Approved by: the Directors of each TWG company. This policy is reviewed at least annually and whenever the law changes (see the review date in the footer).
