ETHICAL AND SUSTAINABLE PROCUREMENT POLICY

Interpretation

In this policy, 'the Company' means the TWG company that employs you (or, for policies about how we do business, the TWG company concerned): Roofworx (UK) Limited (Co. No. 08946095), Woodworx (Carpentry UK) Ltd (Co. No. 11828681) or Fire-worx (Fire Safety) UK Ltd (Co. No. 14615772). 'TWG' means those companies together, trading as TWG - The Worx Group.

Introduction

We recognise that there is a responsibility to work to ensure that products, goods, services and works that we procure are sourced ethically and sustainably. In line with our legal obligations, including the Bribery Act 2010, the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and environmental law, we will conduct our purchasing of materials, plant, services and subcontract works in accordance with this Ethical and Sustainable Procurement Policy.

We base this policy on the Ethical Trading Initiative (ETI) Base Code. The ETI Base Code is based on the internationally recognised standards of the International Labour Organisation (ILO), the UN agency responsible for labour standards, which the UK has signed up to: these include that working conditions are safe and hygienic, child labour is not used, living wages are paid, working hours are not excessive, and freedom of association and the right to collective bargaining are respected.

Definitions

We understand that Ethical Procurement can be defined as: "a procurement process that respects fundamental international standards against criminal conduct such as bribery, corruption, fraud and human rights abuse, and responds immediately to such matters where they are identified" and "results in progressive improvements to the lives of people who contribute to supply chains and are impacted by supply chain decisions." (Ethical and Sustainable Procurement, CIPS).

"Sustainable procurement considers the environmental, social and economic consequences of design, materials used, manufacturing methods, logistics and disposal." (Ethical and Sustainable Procurement, CIPS).

Purpose & Aim

The purpose of the policy is to ensure we continually improve and use the Company's spending power in a way that best serves our staff, clients, the communities where we work and the wider economy.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the Anti-Bribery, Anti-Slavery, Environmental Sustainability and Climate Change, and Human Rights and Ethics policies.

We will endeavour to purchase goods and services from supply sources which maintain ethical and sustainable standards through-out their supply chains.

Procurement decisions will be based on an appropriate balance between economic, social and sustainable factors.

Suppliers and subcontractors are required to maintain the highest standards of integrity and professionalism in their business dealings and practices, adhere to the laws of the countries where they operate and manage their own procurement processes and procedures such that their suppliers and sub-contractors meet the same standards.

Suppliers and subcontractors are required to inform us, at any time during a quotation or tender process or after an order or subcontract is placed, of any concerns they, or any member of their supply chain have in applying this policy and, to the extent that is appropriate and relevant, encourage suppliers and contractors to keep records to demonstrate that their actions (and those of their supply chain) are fair and above reproach.

We will provide appropriate support, guidance and training to staff who buy materials or services or manage subcontractors.

We will communicate this policy to staff and, where appropriate, to suppliers and subcontractors, and make it available on request.

Actions

A Director will decide whether a supplier or subcontractor should be excluded from quoting for, or being awarded, work by TWG. Grounds for exclusion include bribery, fraud, modern slavery or human trafficking offences, serious breaches of health and safety, environmental or employment law, failure to pay tax, and serious misrepresentation.

In deciding whether to exclude a supplier or subcontractor, the Director will consider the seriousness of the misconduct, whether it relates to the work concerned, when it happened and what has been done to prevent it happening again.

Where TWG bids for public-sector work, it will comply with the supplier requirements of the Procurement Act 2023 (in force since 24 February 2025) and the contracting authority's own requirements, and will pass these down its supply chain where required.

A Director may select and audit suppliers and subcontractors to check compliance.

Where a breach is identified, it will be dealt with immediately: the breach will be reported, investigated and evaluated. Recommendations will be issued for remediation and, where possible, plans put in place to prevent the breach from recurring in the supply chain.

Where required improvements have not been or cannot be made, a Director will manage the exit of the relationship with the supplier and keep a record of the decision.
