ANTI-SLAVERY AND MODERN-DAY HUMAN TRAFFICKING POLICY

Interpretation

In this policy, 'the Company' means the TWG company that employs you (or, for policies about how we do business, the TWG company concerned): Roofworx (UK) Limited (Co. No. 08946095), Woodworx (Carpentry UK) Ltd (Co. No. 11828681) or Fire-worx (Fire Safety) UK Ltd (Co. No. 14615772). 'TWG' means those companies together, trading as TWG - The Worx Group.

This policy does not form part of any employee's contract of employment and may be amended at any time.

Scope

This Policy sets out the zero-tolerance approach of TWG - The Worx Group (Roofworx, Woodworx and Fire-worx) to modern slavery and human trafficking. The Company strictly prohibits the use of modern slavery and human trafficking in its operations and supply chain. The Company is and will continue to be committed to implementing systems and controls aimed at ensuring that modern slavery is not taking place anywhere within the organisation or in any of the supply chains. It is expected that suppliers will hold their own suppliers to the same high standards.

This policy applies to all persons working for the Company or on their behalf in any capacity, including employees at all levels, directors, officers, seconded workers, volunteers, agents and suppliers.

Definition

Modern slavery is a term used to encompass slavery, servitude, forced and compulsory labour, bonded and child labour and human trafficking. Human trafficking is where a person arranges or facilitates the travel of another person with a view to that person being exploited. Modern slavery is a crime and a violation of fundamental human rights.

This policy supports TWG's obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2015. Under section 54 of the Act, organisations with a total turnover of £36 million or more must publish an annual slavery and human trafficking statement. If any TWG company reaches that threshold, it will publish a statement approved by its Directors; below the threshold, TWG may publish a voluntary statement, as clients often ask for one in tenders.

Commitments

- TWG has a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery in its organisation and supply chains and it expects all parties to comply with these standards.
- The prevention, detection and reporting of modern slavery in any part of the organisation or supply chain is the responsibility of all those working for or on behalf of the Company. Employees must not engage in, facilitate or fail to report any activity that might lead to, or suggest, a breach of this policy.
- The Company is committed to engaging with stakeholders and suppliers to address the risk of modern slavery in its operations and supply chain.
- The Company takes a risk-based approach to its contracting processes and keeps them under review. It assesses whether the circumstances warrant the inclusion of specific prohibitions against the use of modern slavery and trafficked labour in its contracts with third parties. Using a risk based approach it will also assess the merits of writing to suppliers requiring them to comply with the Company procedures, which sets out the minimum standards required to combat modern slavery and trafficking

- The Company aims to encourage openness and will support anyone who raises genuine concerns under this policy, even if they turn out to be mistaken. The Company is committed to ensuring no one suffers any detrimental treatment as a result of reporting their suspicion that modern slavery of whatever form is or may be taking place in any part of the business or in any of the Company's supply chains.
- Consistent with the risk based approach TWG may require: – Suppliers engaging workers through a third party to obtain that third party's agreement to adhere to this policy
- As part of the Company's ongoing risk assessment and due diligence processes it will consider whether circumstances warrant carrying out audits of suppliers for their compliance with the Company procedures.
- If an employee believes that they have suffered any such treatment, they should inform the office manager immediately. If the matter is not remedied, the employee should raise it formally using the Company Grievance Policy. Concerns about modern slavery can also be raised under the Whistleblowing Policy.

Breaches of this Policy

If TWG finds that other individuals or organisations working on the Company's behalf have breached this policy TWG will ensure that appropriate action is taken. This may range from considering the possibility of breaches being remediated and whether that might represent the best outcome for those individuals impacted by the breach to terminating such relationships.

Any employee who breaches this policy will face disciplinary action, which may result in dismissal for misconduct or gross misconduct.

Document Control

Policy owner: a Director. Approved by: the Directors of each TWG company. This policy is reviewed at least annually and whenever the law changes (see the review date in the footer).
